

PRESS STATEMENT FOR RELEASE 17.05.11

CURVEMOTION TO HOST ROLLERBURY REUNION

CurveMotion, the new Bury St Edmunds based interactive leisure venue, is to host a Rollerbury reunion as part of its Skatelove session next Wednesday 25th May 2011 from 6.30pm to 10pm. Music for the event will be provided by the popular Rollerbury DJ, Adi Linton, who had a great following when he was at the original venue, and is promising to play the best tunes from the Rollerbury era as well as reintroducing some Rollerbury games for those attending.

CurveMotion opened in April, and has been running "Skatelove" sessions, targeted at anyone who loves to skate, on a Wednesday night since the opening. The organisers are appealing to all those who used to regularly visit Rollerbury to book online in advance for what they are promising will be a fantastic night.

Sarah Stamp, Spokesperson for CurveMotion explained: "The reunion will be a chance for those who grew up skating at Rollerbury to reconnect with old friends, relive their teenage years and rediscover their passion for skating. We are seeing lots of people coming along to the evening sessions who used to be hardcore Rollerbury fans - bringing rollerskating back to Bury has created a real feeling of nostalgia and it's a response to requests from them that we have decided to host this special event. If the evening goes well, we hope to be hosting Rollerbury reunions on a regular basis going forward."

Entrance on the evening will be £6.25, which includes either free skate hire or a medium soft drink. The evening is open to all, and anyone interested in going along is advised to book online at www.curvemotion.com.
